-The Chicago postoffice has just broken the world's record for mail handled at one time from one source, according to James N. McArthur, superintendent of the central station. "The Chicago office has just handled 6,000,000 pieces of stamped mail from one Chicago firm," said Mr. McArthur. "This represented an expense of $60,000 to the firm in stamps alone. The matter was handled under the new canceled stamp arrangement by means of which a firm buys stamps already canceled, so as to save that work being done at the postoffice. The mailed matter weighed 125 tons and filled sixty cars. I understand that this is a world's postoffice record. In the last year the receipts of the Chicago postoffice were $14,000,000, and the expense $5,000,000."

- New York, May 15: Exports of raw cotton for the week totalled 74,381 bales, against 35,304 bales for the corresponding period last year. On shipboard last evening, not cleared, were 135,083 bales, against 106,226 bales a year ago. The Financial Chronicle figured the world's takings of American cotton this week at 253,178 bales. For the corresponding week last season takings amounted to 223,043 bales. Takings for this season to date are 10,237,960 bales, or about a million bales in excess of those for the corresponding period last season. The American visible supply of cotton decreased some 127,000 bales during the current week. For the corresponding week last year the decrease was 158,644 bales. The amount of cotton brought into sight this week was 119,600 bales, in comparison with 77,560 for the corresponding week last season. Northern spinners takings so far this season were placed at 2,473494 bales, against 1,-545,027 bales for the corresponding period last season. Southern consumption to date was estimated at 1,700,000 bales, against 1,697,000 bales last sea-

-Louisville, Ky., May 15: Their enthusiasm raised to a high pitch by a notable movement to the support of the Southern Baptist Theological seminary, over one thousand delegates to the Southern Baptist convention late this afternoon took a lengthy journey to Cave Hill cemetery, only to have a avy rain interfere with the unveiling of a monument to the late Rev. Dr. T. T. Eaton. Before they left the floor of the convention hall over $115,000 was voluntarily subscribed toward the endowment fund of the seminary. Here a farmer rose to pledge the fifty dollars from the sale of a cow or a horse; there a prosperous city dweller contributed ten or twenty times that amount. It was shortly before the morning session ended when President Mullins of the Theological seminary, and Dr. Wm. Hatcher of Virginia, began taking subscriptions toward the $600,000 fund of the seminary, which is being raised in the celebration of the jubilee year. Dr. Hatcher announced that W. J. Slayden of Asheville, N. C., would give $5,060 if nineteen others would give a like amount and no less than thirteen others did so. Other $5,000 contributors included George B. West of Newport News, Va. The students at the seminary who attended the session in a body topped off the scene with a little surprise of their own, when they announced that they had gotten together $10,000 for the endowment fund. The next annual convention is to be held

THERE is no question in the mind of The Enquirer, that the publication of of the American navy.

"In many ways it is made obvious." the tax returns in the newspapers would do a great deal toward establishing equalization. Some eighteen years ago the general assembly provided for the publication of the poll lists of the various counties in the newspapers, and the result was a considerable number of additions. Many individuals who had never before been on the list were caught. The publication of more striking effect. In the interest of peace and good order, however, we would suggest that if such a thing were contemplated, it would be worth while to provide at least a year's notice of the intended publication so people may have the opportunity to regulate matters in the meantime. Otherwise there will be no end of turmoil and strife.

Most individuals know the difference between right and wrong, and there are few individuals who fail to recognize harbor in a militant condition. the advantage of having right on their side; but with a very large proportion, there is a marked indifference to right except where it promises to be an asset available to their selfish advancement. Where a large proportion of people hold to the idea that the right and Sunday, wrong of questions that do not directly concern their own personal interests is a matter of indifference to them, it becomes all the more difficult for the individual who is directly concerned, to secure the right to which he may be entitled.

Among these are many who are accustomed to stand in the background, and fret because others who are apparently no brighter, no more industrious and no more energetic, are constantly standing in the white light of publicity and prospering through plenty of business. or no other reason than that they have the courage and the intelligence to keep their attractions before the public.

Although there are many who are not aware of the fact, in this country one man is as good as another, generally speaking. Of course, there are some who think they are superior and some who think they are inferior. This is true only to the extent of such differences as may exist by reason of gradations of intelligence and moral integrity. In the proportion that he possesses these qualities, one individual is as good as another, no matter what standards conventionality may have

Fort Mill, May 16: Chief of Police V. D. Potts shot and instantly killed Jack league, and upon all citizens of the Jackson, colored, at 10.30 o'clock last night. The killing occurred in the Sprattville section of the town through which the negro was passing en route to his home at Grattan. Jackson had been drinking and cursing on the streets and was overtaken by Officer Potts at the point mentioned above. When arrested the negro, a burly man of 200 pounds, agreed to return with Mr. Potts, but had gone only a few steps when with great force he seized the officer and threw him to the ground. Mrs. D. E. Boney left this morning Mr. Potts reached for his pistol and this day. was seized by the drunken negro. The officer then pulled another gun from his pocket and the negro also attempted to wrench this from his hand. The two officer then pulled another gun from his were again on foot, and engaged in a lively tussle for possession of the weapon, when Officer Potts finally felt $6,800,000,000. Sixty-seven per cent of the total is real estate, and all of the Jackson's grip slacken and jerked one of the pistols, a 38-calibre Smith & this the officer fired four shots, two of in connection with frauds in the buildwhich struck Jackson. One bullet entered the heart and another lodged in the shoulder. Jackson fell dead in the fifth of persons closely connected with street. Jackson was a powerful man, the state house stealings.....John C. and while Officer Potts regrets very and Martin T. Davis have been indictand, while Officer Potts regrets very much the necessity of having to shoot the negro, it was purely a case of selfdefense. The county coroner is expect-
